Well Children Are Active.

If your child is dull, pale, fretful and wants to lie around, the chances are it is suffering with worms. Kick-appee Worm Killer, a pleasant candy confection, liked by all children is what your child needs. You only give one-half to one lozenge at a time and you get immediate results. Every mother should have a box on hand. 25c, at all druggists.

WILL FIGHT OR PRAY.

A minister of the gospel who will either fight or pray, in whichever capacity he is most needed in time of war, has offered his services to Major General Barnett, commandant of the United States Marine Corps. He is Reverend Ferdinand F. Schultz, pastor of the Church of Christ Disciples, Chillicothe, Ohio,—a practical engineer as well as minister. In offering his services the Rev. Schultz expressed willingness to serve in the fire-room of a battleship, or as chaplain of marines in the field. The patriotic and versatile Ohio pastor is 57 years of age, but says he is hale and hearty and ready to respond to a call to serve "Old Glory" at any time.

Clear Skin Comes From Within.

It is foolish to think that you can gain a good clear complexion by the use of face powder. Get at the root of the trouble and thoroughly cleanse the system with a treatment of Dr. King's New Life Pills. Gentle and mild in action, do not gripe, yet they relieve the liver by their action on the bowels. Good for young, adults and aged. Go after a clear complexion today. 25c, at your druggist.

MOVE TABLET FACTORY.

The Alpine Stationary Co., manufacturers of school and writing tablets, are engaged in moving their plant equipment from its Clark street location, alongside the Soo and Green Bay & Western tracks, to the old wall paper factory building on the South Side. In the new location the company has first floor space, 42x220 feet. A new ruling machine and punching machine will be installed, providing a first class equipment. Orders are on the books sufficient to keep the plant in operation three or four months ahead and the size of the crew will be increased as rapidly as conditions warrant. The Alpine company is turning out a high grade line and residents of this city and vicinity who wish to patronize a home industry should specify "Alpine's" when buying tablets.

Shelled to the kernel, the only real complaint against Wilson is that he has not plunged the country into the European war. But, in adapting this to political uses, the Republicans are careful to avoid any intimation as to what side we should now be fighting upon. Of course, the idea is to get votes from the sympathizers with both sides in the carnival of blood and destruction. Is it possible to conceive a more hypocritical, loathsome piece of political trickery?

The newspaper is an ever unfolding encyclopedia, an unbound book forever issuing, never finished and always new. Did you ever stop to think that millions have no literature, no school and almost no pulpit but the press? Not one man in ten reads books, but every one of us except the very hopeless poor satiates himself with the paper. It is parent, school, college, theatre, pulpit, example, counselor, all in one. Every drop of our blood is colored by it.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Stevens Point has no public parks—a fact that is generally regretted—but as a matter of fact it needs them less than any other city we know of. Where, in this great nation of ours, will you find a city that is more generously and more beautifully provided with shade trees, lawns and shrubbery? Where will you find people who take greater pride in the upkeep of those things that nature has so graciously bestowed upon them in the line of growing vegetation? And, to put another question, when did you ever see the city more beautiful than in this month of June of the year 1916?

There are undoubtedly some ten million voters in this country, Republicans, Progressives, Independents and Democrats, who believe heart and soul in the constructive reforms agitated during the past decade and carried, to a large extent, into effect by President Wilson through the agency of the Democratic party. This was possible because the Democratic party was the only political agency not dominated by the selfish special interests opposed to these reforms. And under Woodrow Wilson the Democratic party has been kept free from special-interest control and today remains the only available political agency for the continuation of this good work.

The proposition to abandon, temporarily, the West Side public school is a simple problem in economics, unjust as it may seem to residents of that part of the city. Last year there were but 17 pupils enrolled in the two grades maintained and the cost to the city was nearly $1,200, or nearly $70 per child. This year the prospects are that there will be but 15 or 16 first and second graders in the district, while the aggregate cost of the school, if it is kept open, will be no less than last year. It is proposed to furnish transportation and have these children attend the First and Second ward schools, at a cost of approximately $200 per day. Under this arrangement the children would be subjected to but little more danger or discomfort and the city would be saving several hundred dollars.

There is too much of the spirit today of "Let George do it." There is too little willingness to take hold and co-operate personally in attempts at civic improvement.

Neatness is not exactly beauty, but there can be no beauty without neatness. Every piece of paper set adrift, every heap of rubbish, lowers the tone of a town, and helps create the spirit of disorder. People are governed by the influence of neighbors. If one man cleans up and paints up, the spirit of improvement sweeps through the whole street. If he lets things go ragged, his neighbors fall easily into the slovenly habit of letting well enough alone.

Town beauty is not created by elaborate mansions or choicely designed business blocks. It is made by the transplanting and careful tending of green foliage and flowers within town limits, by elimination of eye sores, by good taste in building, and removal of disorder. Stevens Point has done much along this line, but there are many things to be achieved to enable it fully to realize the ideal of the City Beautiful.

It is an interesting business question as to how far an article is made more attractive to the public, by including with it some coupon or ticket entitling the purchaser, when he gets enough of them, to some special premium.

There appears to be a growing business sentiment against the practice. The National Retail Hardware Association, which concluded last week its sessions at Boston, endorsed the so called Austin bill, which will make the distribution of such coupons in inter-state commerce unprofitable. These hard headed hardware men seem to think a jackknife doesn't become a bit more attractive by enclosing with it a coupon representing a twentieth part of the value of a cheap colored photograph.

These coupons and tickets and stamps can't be good advertising, since the great majority of them are thrown away. Some people start to save them, but long before they get the required number, they are buying some other line of goods, and the coupons they have saved are valueless.

Of course there must be some demand for these coupons or the dealers would not include so many of them in their packages. No doubt a good many are redeemed. This means an added expense, to be charged up in the price of the article. The people who have no time to spend in keeping track of these coupons pay for prizes for other purchasers. The premiums commonly represent something that the purchasers of the goods would not ordinarily have bought, so that their total expense is wasteful, and an addition to the cost of living.

The best recommendation for goods is to make the article just as good as possible, spending a reasonable amount in publicity work to tell the public what the goods are. This wins more customers than coupons, prize tickets, or stamps.

A LUCKY ESCAPE.

Charlie Dorscheid Gives Details of His Near Accident in Buena Vista a Few Days Ago.

I noticed in the columns of your last week's paper an account of the ditching of my auto on the corner near Earl Carley's home in Buena Vista, which is an undisputed fact, but as none of the reasons were given for the cause of such action I wish to state the main and most important one was that George Turrish, in coming from the east stopped his car directly in the road, not more than forty feet from the highest point of the ditch, which was from three to four feet deep. The turnpike at that place is narrow, leaving not more than three feet on either side to pass him or take the ditch for it. As I was coming from the south around the corner, heading east, there was but a moment of time in which to act. It was either a head-end collision or a drive into the ditch. I chose the latter. Being a new beginner in running an auto, I think I accomplished the feat in a remarkably neat and scientific manner, as no one was hurt or lives lost. My car whirled along through the ditch as though nothing had happened, not even unloading any of the occupants, and came out all O. K. It has been reported I stripped the gear and bent some of the irons on the front end of the car; also another report is in circulation that too much alcohol and other drinks was the cause of the ditching, both of which stories I deny as untruthful and scandalous and containing not one iota of fact. I had not taken a drink of liquor of any kind that day.

Yours truly,
Chas. Dorscheid.

Practical Economy

Baking powders made from alum or phosphate may be bought for a trifle less than Royal Baking Powder, which is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes.

Alum powders are not only cheap, but they differ greatly in leavening power.

If a cheap baking powder is used for a fine cake and the cake turns out a failure there is a waste of costly materials worth more than a whole can of the cheap baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder produces the finest food, and its use therefore, results in an actual saving.

THE MAN WHO WINS

The man who wins is the average man,
Not built on any particular plan,
Not blest with any particular luck,
Just steady and earnest and full of pluck.—Barrett.

Isn't this an inspiring thought? The men who win are the AVERAGE men, like you and I, and the men we rub elbows with in the shop, the store, the factory and on the farm! The Mission to make for themselves an honorable place in the world in which they live; the PURPOSE to fulfill the obligations of life. Is there any obligation greater than that of making PROVISION for age and dependents? To provide for "rainy days" and to grasp opportunities. Did you ever sit down with a quiet hour of interpection and ask yourself if you are making an honest effort to safeguard the future that is as certain as tomorrow? Ever think how trifling are the pleasures of the hour compared with the real pleasure and satisfaction in the sacrifices and self denial of making PROVISION FOR OBLIGATION? Ever realize what a credit account in some strong bank like this means to you in this development? Frankly, we want to get acquainted with the man who saves his money against the day of need and opportunity. It is our business and our pleasure to help him with our advice and our facility for serving him.

1776 INDEPENDENCE DAY 1916

Signing of the Declaration, Philadelphia, July 4, 1776.

... FROM PAINTING BY JOHN TRUMBULL

Our Fourth

By ARTHUR J. BURDICK

Copyright, 1916, by American Press Association.

SOME strokes of pen by valiant men,
Some interchange of views,
The clang of bell in tower to tell
A nation new the news—
News to warm the patriot's heart,
The tyrant's heart transfixed;
This was the first, most glorious Fourth—
The Fourth of '76.

SOME wars well fought, some lessons taught,
Some peace to bless the land,
Some struggles drear, some hope, some fear
And some achievements grand,
And every year on July 4
Old Glory floating high
To thrill the heart and keep us strong
To strive, to do or die.

SOME strong intents, some great events,
Some men of valiant deeds,
Some leaders great to mold our fate
And meet the nation's needs,
Wealth, power, increase, freedom and peace
(A lasting peace we pray),
A flag unstained—these things attained
We celebrate today.

Sad Fourth For Washington

On the 4th day of July, 1754, Colonel George Washington surrendered an army. It was only a small army, but a fort went with it. He experienced on this occasion his first defeat in war, at the hands of the French.

Although at that time only twenty-two years of age, he had been placed in command of a small body of troops which was marching toward Fort Duquesne. At a point on the Monongahela river less than forty miles from his destination he heard of the approach of a party of French and Indians, sent to intercept him. Accordingly he fell back to the Great Meadows, fifty miles from Cumberland, and hastily erected a stockade, which he called Fort Necessity.

With the help of a friendly Indian sachem, Hatt King, he attacked the French in their camp at night, killing their commander, Jumonville, and taking a number of prisoners. It was the first blood shed in the French and Indian war.

A few days later Fort Necessity was attacked by 1,500 Indians and French under De Villiers, and Washington surrendered on honorable terms. This was on the morning of July 4. He marched out with his little army of 100 men, drums beating and flags flying, and he and his soldiers returned peacefully to their homes.

Old July 4 Toasts.

In 1811 in Philadelphia a toast interest in the Fourth of July toasts was drunk. General Butler proposed "Thomas Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence, may the spirit that pervaded that day be speedily revived." Mr. Mantz proposed "The memory of General Pike, long life to his friends and extinction to his enemies." G. W. Bartram proposed "The idol of democracy, not to be found in the island of Elba nor at the court of Berlin as a British spy, but in the virtue and reason of every honest American."

Hats Off to the Flag!

If any reader of these lines has ever visited a foreign country, has been a stranger in some far away place over the ocean, he may remember the feeling of joy, of pride, that came to him when he first saw the stars and stripes floating over the consulate.

One writer says he remembers some years ago walking down the Bois de Boulogne in Paris. Just ahead of him was a regulation man of the world, and yet something about him indicated that at one time or another he had lived in America. He walked slowly down the avenue until all of a sudden from the second story of a building at the right there were hung to the breeze the silken folds of a beautiful specimen of the American flag. The man of the world saw it. In a second his silk hat was off his head, and despite the on-lookers he gave three as lusty cheers for the stars and stripes as ever came from an American throat. As the writer reached him he turned about and with tears rolling down his cheeks said, "I did not know that the sight of anything could touch me like that."

Celebrate Sanely.

Celebrate the Fourth with all proper patriotic fervor, but celebrate sanely. Be willing to lay down life or limb for your country, but do not sacrifice either to make a holiday.

The tabulated records of the deaths and injuries on July 4, 1915, show that over half of the injuries in cities were in New York and Philadelphia. In the eighty-four cities tabulated 806 persons were injured. Of these New York was responsible for 272 and Philadelphia for 280, making a total of 552 for these two cities alone, while only 254 persons were injured in the other eighty-two cities. In Chicago, which in 1907 had sixteen persons killed and 151 injured and in 1908 had twelve persons killed and 202 persons injured, there were in 1915 only eight Fourth of July accidents. Curiously enough, however, of these five were fatal, giving Chicago, in spite of its remarkably low record for injuries, the largest number of deaths of any of the eighty-four cities, five deaths in Chicago being half of the total number of fatalities in cities.

Patriotism

A good poem to reread on this Fourth of July

By SIR WALTER SCOTT

BREATHES there the man with soul
so dead
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land;
Whose heart hath ne'er within him
burned,
As home his footsteps he hath turned
From wandering on a foreign strand?
If such there breathe, go, mark him well,
For him no minstrel raptures swell;
High though his titles, proud his name,
Boundless his wealth as wish can claim,
Despite those titles, power and pelf,
The wretch, concentered all in self,
Living, shall forfeit fair renown
And, doubly dying, shall go down
To the vile dust from whence he sprung,
Unwept, unhonored and unsung.

The Declaration's Printing.

The delegates from New York and those newly elected from Pennsylvania who had been sent in place of the men formerly opposing the declaration, as well as John Morris, signed the Declaration of Independence on the 2d of August. Thomas McKean of Delaware was allowed to sign later because he was absent from congress on that date, and newly elected members were allowed the same privilege as late as November.

Satisfied that the signed parchment was a lasting evidence of the birth of the new nation, congress took no further official action regarding the instrument itself until the month of January, 1777.

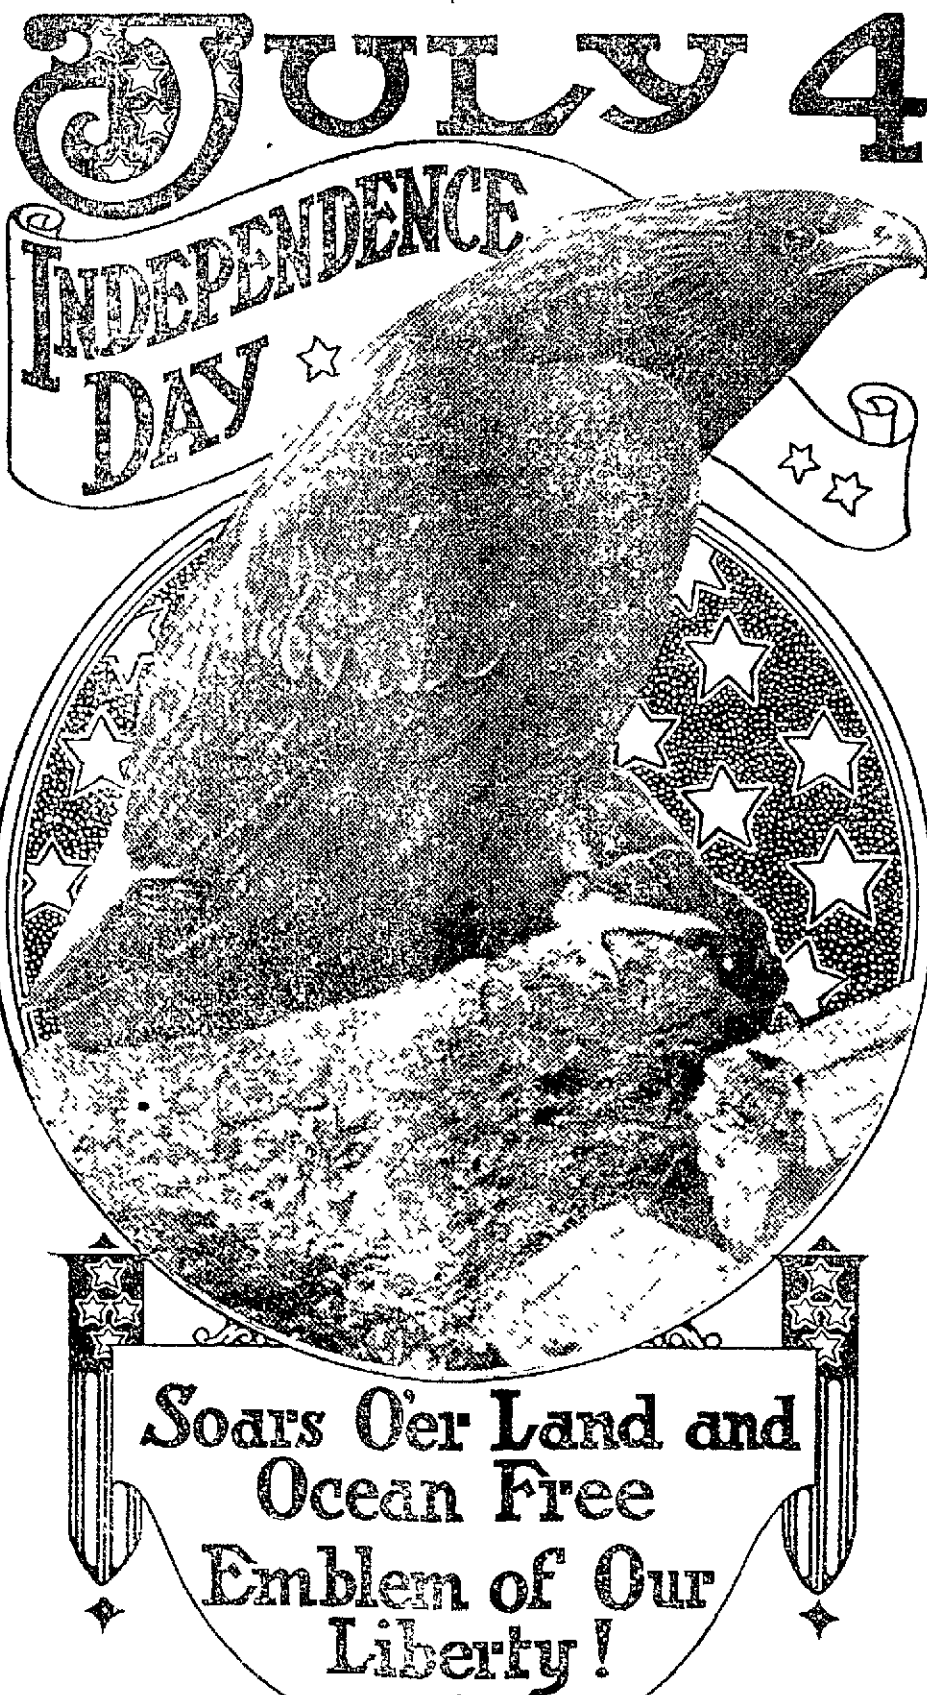

By that time the new republic began to feel its strength, and congress decided to promulgate the names of the signers of the Declaration of Independence by ordering that printed copies of the document should be made, with the names of the signers added. These were to be sent to every state, with the request that the declaration be put in the assembly records.

Mary Katherine Goddard, a woman who carried on the printing business on Broadside, Baltimore, probably never heard of woman's rights, yet it happened that it became her right to print these copies of the American bill of rights, as she was then conducting the printshop in which her brother, William Goddard, had failed some time before.

From these copies numerous others were soon made, until before long every home boasted at least one copy of the original document which gave life to our republic. The spread of interest in the text of the declaration was enormous, every rebellious colonist desiring to read the charter of American liberties.

Last Revolutionary Survivor.

The last survivor of the Revolutionary war was John Gray, who died in Noble county, O., aged 104 years, on March 26, 1868. He came to the Buckeye State early in its existence. For some years before he died he drew an annual pension of $500 from the government. General John A. Bingham having got a special act through congress for this. Gray's father was killed at the battle of Stillwater, and he took his place in the army, being only sixteen years old then. He served through the remainder of the war. His military record is on file at the office of the Ohio commissioner of soldiers' claims.

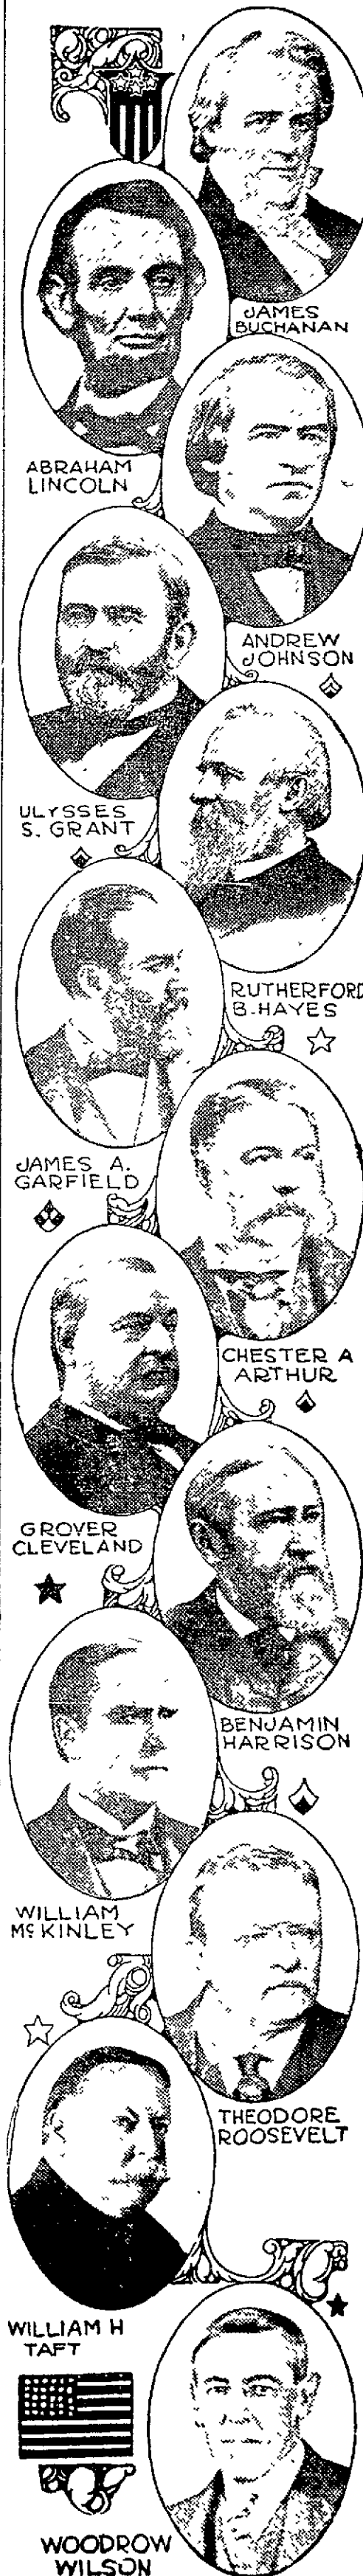

Patriotic Advice.

Citizens by birth or choice of a common country, that country has a right to concentrate your affections. The name of American, which belongs to you in your national capacity, must always exalt the just pride of patriotism more than any appellation derived from local discriminations.—Washington.

The Liberty Bell's Ringer.

A man named Andrew McNare was the official bell ringer of the statehouse bell from 1759 to 1776, the last entry of payment for such service being of the date of Sept. 15. While there is no official report extant to prove that Andrew McNare rang the Liberty bell on July 4, 1776, it is altogether probable that he was the man who rang it.

Miss Todd was also the guest of honor at a kitchen shower on Thursday afternoon, given by the Misses Evelyn and Dorothy West at their home on Oak street. The house and table decorations were appropriately chosen and the favors were little dolls dressed in bride's attire. Miss Ellen Todd dressed the best "clothes pin bride" and received a prize.

They were attended by Miss Helen Waldherr, sister of the groom, and Leonard Haidvogel, while little Miss Helen Jelinski was flower girl.

Wedding breakfast was served at 10:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jelinski, 702 First street, with covers for about sixty relatives. Stevens Point friends of Miss Marguerite Esther Claffin of Washington, D. C., have received announcements of her marriage to Harold E. Warner, also of Washington. The wedding took place at the national capital on Tuesday, June 20, and they will make their home in that city. Mrs. Warner is a daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth H. Claffin of Washington and her father, who passed away a couple of years ago, was for many years engaged in the jewelry business in Stevens Point.

The president and faculty of the Normal entertained the students of the summer session at a reception in the Normal gymnasium on Friday evening of last week. A short musical program was carried out and the latter part of the evening spent in dancing, music for which was furnished by the Normal orchestra, under the direction of Miss Annabel Dunlap. Punch was served by girls of the school during the evening. A large crowd was in attendance.

The Woman's club of Arnott closed a most successful year of activity with a four course banquet at the Woodman hall there, when the following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. R. E. Newby; vice presidents, Mrs. S. Earl Carley, Mrs. George Turrish; recording secretary, Mrs. E. P. Crosby; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. J. Carley; treasurer, Miss Christina Koltz.

Miss Cicely Dineen was toastmistress and a number of interesting short talks were given, interspersed with Victrola music. The hall and tables were prettily decorated.

Mrs. Minnie Cleveland of Ripon, grand matron of the Order of the Eastern Star of Wisconsin, conducted the annual inspection of Arbutus chapter No. 52 at the Masonic Temple Monday evening. Work was exemplified with two candidates, and following this a vocal solo was rendered by Miss Kate Ball, with accompaniment by Mrs. R. E. Joy.

There were about eighty members of the order present and after the regular work a lunch was served in the dining hall. The tables were arranged in the form of a star, the emblem of the order, and the decorative plan was carried out in red, green, yellow, blue and white, one color for each point of the star. Mrs. W. L. Rothman, worthy matron of the chapter, was toastmistress and short talks were given by Mrs. Cleveland, W. J. Shumway, Mrs. E. T. Smith and Peter Bickler, the latter of Milwaukee. There were also vocal solos by Miss Minnie Sustins, for whom Mrs. James Blake was accompanist, readings by Mrs. C. W. Copps and a violin solo by Arthur Beijer, who was accompanied by Mrs. Beijer.

The artistic touch which always characterizes Mrs. Lamb's recitals was much in evidence last Friday afternoon when about thirty-five invited guests were present at her home to listen to a charming program of piano numbers given by nine of her pupils. Each number was given in an artistic and pleasing manner, showing careful and conscientious work.

The opening number was a demonstration of technique and ear training by George Mann, Thora Hogan, Jean Nash, Helen Gardiner and Bernice Vinkle, after which Harriet Iyer and Gladys Young each gave piano selections, evidencing their fitness for promotion to the higher grade to which they have now been admitted. Piano numbers were then given by all of the first five pupils mentioned above, who played with abandon and a naturalness which made their selections particularly interesting.

The last part of the program was then open to Kathleen Clifford and Marjorie Oberlatz, both of whom showed exceptional ability, excellently interpreting compositions from Bach, Beethoven, McDowell, etc.

Miss Elsie Coral Holman and Floyd E. Lee, Stevens Point young people, were married in Milwaukee at 7 o'clock last Saturday evening, June 24. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. W. Dorward at the parsonage of Tabernacle Baptist church. There were no attendants, but the bride's father and sisters, F. C. Holman and the Misses Gertrude and Edith Holman, and the groom's brother, Harold Lee, of this city, and Alfred Larson of Kenosha, were present. A banquet for the wedding party followed. Mr. and Mrs. Lee will be at home at 820 Grand avenue, Racine, after July 5th. Mr. Lee, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Lee of this city and lived here for about six years, coming from Merrill, is employed as shipping clerk in the plant of the Mitchell Wagon Co. at Racine. His bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Holman and has been a teacher in rural schools of the county. The best wishes of many Stevens Point friends are extended them.

Rev. John S. Landowski, who is now assistant pastor of St. John's Catholic congregation in Green Bay, affixed his signature to a marriage certificate for the first time this morning, when he was celebrating at solemn high nuptial mass for his brother, Victor A. Landowski, and Miss Theresa T. Krygier.

The ceremony, which took place at 9 o'clock at St. Peter's church, was opened by the singing of the "Veni Creator" by Dr. A. A. Krygier, brother of the bride, of Milwaukee. The church choir sang the mass. Father Landowski was assisted in the service by Rev. S. A. Elbert as deacon, Rev. Peter Banka as sub-deacon, Rev. B. Walejko as master of ceremonies, Victor Hoppa as censer bearer and Frank Popowski as second master of ceremonies.

Miss Krygier was gowned in mirror taffeta, trimmed with Chantilly lace. Miss Ann Landowski, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and wore yellow crepe de chine. Her bouquet was of snap dragons. The Misses Mollie Kamrowski and Sophia Pasternacki were the bridesmaids. Both wore air line gowns and carried marguerites. Little Helen Krygier, who was attired in white, carried the bride's bouquet of sweet peas and lilies of the valley. The groomsmen were Dr. B. B. Krygier of Milwaukee, brother of the bride, and Stanley Landowski, brother of the groom, carried the ring, concealed by her father, Andrew Krygier, Sr. Dr. V. J. Shippy and Joseph Szule were the ushers. The church was crowded with friends and relatives of the young couple.

A breakfast was served at 10:30 at the home of the bride's parents, 416 Franklin street, and at 5:30 this afternoon there will be a dinner at the same place. Only the wedding party and immediate relatives are included among the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Landowski will leave on one of the midnight trains tonight for a trip of two weeks to Milwaukee, Chicago and South Bend, Ind. On returning they will be at home with the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Landowski are both lifelong residents of this city and both have been students at St. Peter's parochial, the public and the Normal schools. Mrs. Landowski is an accomplished pianist and has devoted some of her time to the teaching her art. Mr. Landowski, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Landowski, 214 Washington avenue, has recently held a position at the Normal school, but has taken employment in the F. Zolandez Co.'s shoe store. The bride and groom are widely acquainted in the city and have hosts of personal friends who join in expressions of congratulations.

Among the guests who attended the wedding from outside the city were Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Krygier and children, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Krygier, Jr., Dr. B. B. Krygier and Mrs. S. Lempiicki and children, Milwaukee.
